

The business will adopt the name 3Squared, inspired by their former gallery, and will operate under an LLC. With an established reputation and following in the art world, Akaash and Marina, former owners of 3Squared Gallery, once located at 351 W 24th Street for which opened in 2015 and operated for many years, were compelled to close their doors after the building was sold and later demolished. They have since transitioned into private art dealing.

Background on both founders can be found below:

- Akaash Mehta:

Akaash Mehta has a substantial background in the art world, having served as an art dealer and appraiser for prestigious institutions such as Christie's and Sotheby's before transitioning to work with multiple galleries and serving as a private consultant to prominent buyers for over two decades. Among their clientele are notable figures including the Prince of Morocco, HRH Moulay Rachid, and Steven Cohen, the owner of the Mets, among others. Their extensive experience and trusted reputation have earned them the confidence of their clients in managing and advising on their art collections.

Akaash has a Masters of Arts with Honors from Cambridge University ,and a BA of Arts with Honors from Cambridge.

- Marina Dojchinov:

- Marina Dojchinov, a prominent figure in the art world, co-founded 3Squared Gallery and specializes in modern contemporary works as a global art dealer. Her influence extends to curating shows for esteemed galleries such as Richard Taittinger Gallery, One Art Space, and G Gallery, among others. With a keen eye for talent, Marina also works closely with private clients worldwide, facilitating art sales, and shaping the contemporary art landscape. Marina has taught at Parsons university on Art Philosophy and universities worldwide. She has a BA of Law and Journalism and an MBA majoring in marketing.

- Portfolio link: www.marinadojchinov.com